

Federal regulations require that students make Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) towards the completion of their degree in accordance with the school's SAP policy. The University at Buffalo's Satisfactory Academic Progress policy is available online at: <http://financialaid.buffalo.edu/process/sap.php>

A student's federal financial aid eligibility is terminated if the minimum SAP standards are not met after the warning period has ended. However, a student has the right to appeal the loss of federal financial aid eligibility if mitigating circumstances existed (events totally beyond the student's control) or if student has returned to the University within the last three terms and was absent for a period of 5 or more years.

SUBMISSION DEADLINES:

Summer semester July 17th

Fall semester November 15th

Spring semester April 15th

Instructions

To appeal the loss of your financial aid eligibility, complete page 2 of the appeal form and attach your personal statement along with supporting documentation. Please be advised that incomplete applications or applications lacking sufficient documentation will be denied. Submission of this form does not guarantee the reinstatement of your federal financial aid.

The SAP Appeal Committee will review your appeal and make a final determination regarding your eligibility for federal financial aid for the upcoming semester (all decisions are semester based). If it is determined it will take more than one semester in order to regain good SAP standing, you may be put on an academic plan that outlines what milestones you must meet each semester in order to retain federal financial aid eligibility. You will receive an official email notification to your UB email address regarding the appeal decision within 2-3 weeks from the date your appeal was received by the Financial Aid office.

Personal Statement Requirement

Provide a detailed, personal statement explaining how the mitigating circumstances resulted in your inability to meet the SAP standards. Your statement should include the dates (day/month/semester) of the circumstance and the steps you have taken to prevent these circumstances from affecting your future academic performance.

If you have returned to UB within the last three terms and had been absent for a period of 5 or more years, provide a detailed, personal statement indicating what hindered your success the first time you attended UB and what corrective actions you have taken to be successful since your return.
